

The Giant Gingerbread Man

By Josh Genest, Grade 2

In Professor Snega's lab there was a little man in purple liquid. Professor Snega poured orange potion in the bottle. He tried to put a little bit in but... his neighbor's dog barked. BARK! BARK! He poured too much in. And it surprised him! The purple liquid made stuff bigger. Now there was a GIANT GINGERBREAD MAN that crashed out of the bottle. It had yellow buttons, a green hat and bubblegum eyes, nose and mouth. He said, "I will stomp and stomp as fast as I can. You can't catch me, I'm the Giant Gingerbread Man!"

"I will get you Giant Gingerbread Man!" the Professor said.

The Giant Gingerbread Man went into town. A waiter was sitting at a table, eating a burger in the front of a restaurant. SHAKE, went the table. Then the waiter saw the Giant Gingerbread Man. He said, "I will run and run as fast as I can. You can't catch me, I'm the Giant Gingerbread Man!"

"I'll get you Giant Gingerbread Man!" the waiter said.

He ran past a playground. There were three kids on it. They heard a SHAKE, SHAKE! It was the Giant Gingerbread Man! He said... "I'll stomp and stomp as fast as I can. You can't catch me, I'm the Giant Gingerbread man!"

"We'll get you Giant Gingerbread Man!" said the kids.

He ran past a Sheriff. "No running on the street," the Sheriff said. But the Giant Gingerbread Man didn't hear him. The Sheriff chased him to a construction site. The men saw him. They started chasing him on their bulldozers. He got run over!

Bye, Bye Giant Gingerbread Man!
